

If you love hiking, you will love Cold River Camp. Here, you can enjoy the astonishing pleasure of walking out the door of your own cabin in New Hampshire, crossing a river on a small bridge spanning the lovely Cold River, and beginning your day in the White Mountain National Forest. Here is a peaceful oasis ... surely a place to concentrate on the important things in life.

As the week progresses, you need only to decide where to journey each day, from Little Deer and Big Deer just across the bridge, to the great North Baldface just across the road! Magnificent hikes abound in every direction. Want larger challenges? With an early start, you can reach the Presidentials. Easy canoeing? The Saco and the Androscoggin Rivers are both close by.

Each adventure begins and ends with the good food, comfort, and companionship of the Cold River Camp. Perhaps that is why so many people return to this peaceful place year after year.

Whether you are returning, or are here for the first time, join us this summer! Come, be part of the Cold River Camp community!

We look forward to seeing you.
